If you don’t want to install the tracking yourself, or if you start setting it up but get an error somewhere along the way, you can go to fiverr and get a gig for $5.

Go to Fiverr.com and in the search bar do a search for:

‘google analytics and search console’

On the results page, set the price filter to 0-5. This will remove all the gigs that are charging more than $5.

Look for a gig with a rating of at least 4.8 and a minimum of 30 reviews
